Street Fair begins Monday. Corplanting is in full swing. England is now known as the "hen pecked" empire.

The outlook is for the best fruit crop in this locality in many years.

"Suckers are on" and the fishermen are having unprecedented good luck.

An abundant crop of white clover gives promise of a good honey season.

Garrard county farmers are unable to supply the demands upon them for seed corn.

Lots of farmers "knocked off" plowing and corn planting last week to wait for the rain.

The county machinery is engaged in finishing the remodeling of the Richmond turnpike.

New sidewalks, new buildings, new energy, new life, new citizens, new school, Lancaster.

Flowers are being transplanted and the good ladies doing their utmost to ward making a "city beautiful".

What with the parcels post and the Webb bill, the express companies must be finding poor picking these days.

The men will have to do all the kicking about the narrow skirts as they are too narrow for the woman to do any kicking.

Pretty women, fast horses and that other product which has also made Kentucky famous, were at the Hinata races in profusion.

Oats are up and looking fine, as is also spring grass, wheat above the average, corn planting well under way and the farmer busy and happy.

A good number of Lancaster men have been attending the races in Lexington this week. Hope none of them will have to walk back home.

The measles continue to play havoc among the kiddies of the community. Little Dorothy Dunlap has been the most severe sufferer, but is better.

If you are looking for the latest in ladies wearing apparel, attend the 10 per cent discount sale of Gnawing And Annoying.

A campaign against rats will be opened in Washington. They are said to have become as numerous and as annoying as candidates for once under the new administration.

An Improvement.

The Citizens National Bank, following the advice of the Woman's Club and the sanitary advocates, have had erected handsome copper wire screen doors to the bank, which adds much both to the comfort and appearance of that institution.

Work On Church Begins.

The Danville Construction Co., who has the contract for the new addition to the Christian church, placed a force of men at work last week upon the excavation for the foundation, and the work will be pushed as rapidly as the weather will permit.

Good Workman.

The Presbyterian parsonage at Mansfield is about completed and ready for occupancy, due to the workmanship of our colored contractor Steve B. Lewis. Steve is thoroughly reliable and any one in need of such work would do well to communicate with him.

Buried The Hatchet.

Speaker Champ Clark and Secretary William Jennings Bryan met at a private luncheon in Washington and each issued a public statement declaring that he had "buried the hatchet" and put the personalities of the Baltimore convention behind them.

Land Sale.

J. T. Henry bought of J. C. Fox, 21 acres of land on the Buckeye pike at $110. per acre. This is a very desirable piece of land, lying just outside the city limits and has upon it one of the best spring in the county. John has always got an eye open for a bargain and we think that a good one.

Services At Court House.

Because of the fact that last Sunday was a damp, raw day, and the further fact that the furnace at their church was torn out for the new addition in course of construction, the congregation of the Christian church held their services at the court house, both the Sunday School and morning and evening service.

Tonsorial Artist.

Twenty five years of experience has made Henry Duncan our local barber one of the best in the State. Always looking after the interests of his patrons, he has recently installed three handsome new chairs, besides other material improvements that adds very much to the comfort of his many customers.

A Wanton Act.

Some miscreant broke one of the large plate glass in the door leading into the office of the Kengarlan hotel on last Sunday morning. The act was committed about 3 o'clock in the morning and who did it or what were their reasons is unknown. Luckily Mr. Zimmer had but recently taken out plate glass insurance to protect him against just such contingencies.

Candidates Busy.

The candidates were busy Monday, county court day, and there was scarcely a voter from out in the county who was not buttonholed by one or more who urged upon him the necessity of supporting that particular candidate in the coming August primary. Our present crop of candidates are an unusually nice lot of gentleman and it will dwindle down to a matter of personal choice between them.

Optical Skill Of The Highest Order.

We have known Dr. J. J. Byrne for a number of years.

He always uses the best goods to be had on his Prescription work, which combined with his Optical Skill insures satisfaction to his patients.

Standard Optical Co.

C. A. Culbertson, Prop. He will be in office over Stormes drug store from May 5th, to 18th. Call and see him.

Will Of J. P. Morgan Made Public.

Beginning with a remarkable confession of religious faith, the will of J. P. Morgan, is an unusual document. Bequests and trusts named in specific sums amount to about $20,000,000. In these are remembered relatives, friends, servants, employees and charities. The residue is left to his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., and in the event of his death to the grandson, Junius Spencer Morgan. No estimate of his estate is made and none will be given out until after the appraisal for the inheritance tax.

Look Out For Thieves.

Petty thieving is going on all around us. Nicholaville, Richmond, Stanford and many other towns are the sufferers. The work in most instances seems to be that of organized gangs of thieves. We have had one case here, but it was the work of local talent, and the culprit was promptly caught and is now in the school of reform. However, there is no telling when they may swoop down on Lancaster, and it is well enough to be prepared for such emergencies, and the best way to prepare is to load your shot gun, a warm reception from which will discourage future calls.

Should Have Stayed One More Week.

We suppose every man knows best his own affairs, but we have heard many regrets that the "Titanic" did not remain in service at least until after the race meeting in Lexington. The discontinuance of the line was a source of regret especially to our citizens in the Bryantsville locality, to whom it was great convenience.

Ice Factory About Ready To Start.

The starting of the ice factory has been delayed because of the purchase of some material in Ohio which could not be supplied promptly because of the damage to railway lines by the recent high waters, but Mr. Bastin tells us that he has assurance that the material will be here this week and he hopes to start making ice not later than the latter part of next week.

Good Old Man.

Our good old friend, Mr. S. N. Ison who is now 88 years old, drove into town one day last week a distance of 19 miles, in three hours and felt none the worse for the long drive. He tells us he has always voted the democratic ticket and believes his activity and good health is partly due to his allegiance to the old party. May God bless him in his old days and make them happy ones.

Will Probated.

The will of the late A. B. Estridge was admitted to probate in the county court on Monday. His wife, Mrs. Militia Estridge and his son Roy Estridge were named as Executrix and trustees without bond. Mr. Estridge set aside the sum of $1000. to his wife to be used as she might choose, the remainder of his estate, or the income therefrom to go to his wife during her lifetime and at her death to be divided among his children, share and share alike. The instrument was dated February 24, 1913.

The Sidewalks.

Mr. Homer Tinsley is busily engaged in establishing the grade for the sidewalks about the public square, and as soon as this work is completed, the actual work of construction will begin, and before the summer is over there will be handsome wide concrete walks around the entire square. Work has already commenced on some of the streets and more has been contracted for, and the entire town will present a scene of activity with the coming of settled weather. Many of our citizens are taking advantage of the vast amount of excavating being done to grade their building lots and before long we may see many handsome new dwellings in course of construction.

To Lose Good Citizen.

Mr. Jesse C. Fox has purchased of Mr. Dan Traylor the old Henry Traylor homestead and 136 acres of ground, paying therefor the sum of $12,125. This is one of the handsomest and best appointed residences in Lincoln county and Mr. Fox is to be congratulated upon securing it. We very much regret to state that he will move to his new home at once, and while we are loath to part company with him and his excellent family, we can sincerely congratulate the people of Lincoln upon the addition to their citizenship. Mr. Fox sold a small tract of land containing 21 acres, together with a small house on the Buckeye pike to Mr. T. Henry for $110. per acre.

Improved Train Service Seems Assured.

If newspaper talk may be taken to indicate anything, the train service heretofore outlined in the Record between Stanford and Lexington, will be established in the near future. The new train will start either from Stanford or Crab Orchard, from the latter place to accommodate the immense number of summer tourists going there, and run to Lexington, and from there will take up a fast schedule to Cincinnati, instead of Knoxville as was inadvertently stated. The new train will carry a buffet car to and from Lexington to accommodate those who may desire breakfast and supper on the train, and will reach Lexington about 7 a. m. returning reach Lancaster about 9 p. m. will go through to Lexington without change, and thence on to Cincinnati, reaching the latter place about 10 a. m. This schedule if put into effect, which seems highly probable would prove of vast benefit to people living along the K. C.

Gavel With Which Judge Hardin Will Open May Term Of Court.

When Judge Charles A. Hardin opens Circuit Court here on the first Monday in May he will use a gavel that has quite an interesting history. This gavel was sent here last Saturday by Mr. E. P. Bunton, formerly of this county, who was a prison guard for several years and is now connected with the State Agricultural Department. The gavel was made from a piece of the railing in the Court of Appeals room in the old State House in Frankfort. The maker was Henry Montgomery, of Magoffin county, who is serving a life term in the penitentiary. The knob of the gavel is of walnut beautifully grained and polished, and the handle is of wood from a sugar tree. The convict who made the gavel certainly knew his business and turned out a beautiful piece of work. It was sent to Judge C. A. Hardin and is now in the custody of Sheriff Davenport. — Harrodsburg Herald.

J. P. PRATHER.

Around Lancaster, just as around other towns, are many precocious youngsters, boys who are destined to form the future citizenship of the community after the great majority of the present generation have passed to their reward. The majority of these youngsters give promise of becoming useful men, provided they are trained in the right path. "As the twig is bent, so the tree is inclined", and many of these youths are not following the path which is calculated to bring them peace and prosperity in the years to come. They are up at night long after their elders have retired, smoking cigarettes, using bad language, keeping the company of their elders, others who oftentimes are unfit associates for men of their own age, much less youths of tender years, and these youths as a matter of course think it smart to emulate the example of these disreputables, they try to swear equally as loud, perhaps, who knows, they take an occasional drink, furnished of course by their older companions, and in short try to follow as near as possible the example set by them by their undesirable companions, and in the course of time the youths who are now following the example of some one who is calculated to have a bad effect upon their young minds, will in a very few years themselves have become examples for other youths, and so ad infinitum.

The following of just such precepts is filling the reform schools of the state and eventually will fill the penitentiaries. From being students in the school of crime they become teachers in the same school. But recently complaint was made of the prevalence of petty thievery in the community, chicken stealing and other petty crime, and when the matter was sifted out, it was discovered that the crimes were being committed by an organized band of young boys, both white and black, who when haled into court for their offenses, with the cunning peculiar to more hardened criminals, shifted the responsibility to the shoulders of one of their number and he was "made the goat", or in plain English was made to suffer for the crime of the entire aggregation, while the remainder of the gang are doubtless laughing over their cunning in thus evading the punishment which they so richly deserved. The raising of the boys of the community is something which cannot be handled by the police, when the police are compelled to step in as a usual thing the youngster is so steeped in crime as to make his redemption by moral suasion out of the question.

The remedy for the evil lies with the parents of the community. We have no curfew law that will enable the police to compel the small boys to be off the street at a reasonable hour at night, nor is such a law desirable, this is a matter which should be governed by the parents themselves, and which if they would take a little more severely in hand would materially reduce the number of incorrigibles.

Mothers where does your boy spend his evenings, do you know? What are his environments, who are his associates? If you do not know these things, it is high time you were finding them out. Too late when to inquire who are his associates, where he spends his spare time, what are his pursuits, and whether or not he is treading the straight and narrow path.

This article is not intended as a lecture on morals, but is prompted by observation of actual conditions prevailing in the community, observations made by a very keen observer, one who has watched the downward course of many a wayward youth whose course could have been changed very easily, but who from neglect or carelessness was allowed to follow that path until it was eternally too late.

There are no saloons in Lancaster, there are no blind tigers in Lancaster, but do not infer from that that it is impossible for a boy to go astray; take the safe course, watch your boy closely, see that he is home at a reasonable hour at night, that the company he keeps is of the proper kind, in other words, bring him up in the way he should go.

Appreciated Words.

The Record very much appreciates the kind words said in a letter just received from those good people Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Eason formerly of this place but now living at Bondville in Mercer county. After thanking us for the stand taken about publishing whiskeys advertisements, they conclude with these words; "We like Mercer fine but dear old Garrard has a warm spot in our hearts and we always half with delight the day that brings us the much improved Central Record".

The people who, ten years ago, were flocking to bicycle shows are now absorbed in automobiles, just as perhaps, a few years hence, they will be excited over balloons and flying machines.

The State Board of Health has issued a proclamation urging the observance of cleaning up days in "every county, city, town, school and home in Kentucky on May 2 and 3, the days the Board has set aside as days to clean up."

Change Of Residence.

Mrs. Emma Grant has moved to her home of Richmond street which she recently purchased of S. G. Haselden; Mr. Davis Prather has moved into the property vacated by Mrs. Grant and Thomas McMillan will occupy the apartments which the Prathers leave. Mrs. Grant has rented the property which she sold to the government for one year, paying only "ground rent" therefor, as she owns the buildings.

"Tiger Bill" From Hungry Hill.

An aggregation whose coming was heralded by small hand bills as "Tiger Bill's Wild West Shows", blew into town on Tuesday and consisted of a wagon fit of some eight or ten vehicles drawn by poorly fed horses driven by cow boys who would have looked more at home between plow handles. They pitched their tents on the ball park and gave two exhibitions to very small crowds. The day of the old time wagon show has passed and a wild west show does not attract the people of this locality any more, and "Tiger Bill" has doubtless made his last appearance in Lancaster.

Forest Nurseries.

Two nurseries for the growth of forest tree seedlings and transplants will be started in the near future, one near Frankfort, Ky., and the other on twenty-five acres of land belonging to the State Fair at Louisville. The State Board of Forestry at its quarterly meeting on April 21 made arrangements to undertake this work. It will cost about $750 each to establish the nurseries and the stock from them will be furnished to the people of the State at cost in order to encourage the reforesting of cutover areas and waste lands.

These nurseries are projects which will be of great benefit to the people of the State and within a very short time will be self supporting.

Paint Lick Bridge.

The bridge over Paint Lick Creek on the Richmond and Lancaster turnpike, which was swept away by the recent high water, has been repaired and replaced and traffic has been resumed over it. The cost of the repairs was between $600 and $700, and the work was done by the day, the contractors being paid a small per cent over the actual cost of the labor and material used in the work, and in this manner the damage was repaired at the least possible cost. The repairing of this bridge will mean much to the merchants of Paint Lick who have been greatly injured while it was out of commission because of the fact that customers could not reach the town without following a roundabout course.

Street Fair Next Week.

The Littlejohn Co. will be here next week for a week at the Ball Park under the auspices of the local lodge of Odd Fellows. This same carnival company was here for a weeks engagement last year, and gave splendid satisfaction, in fact they succeeded in removing a great deal of the prejudice which has existed in the minds of many of our people against "street fairs".

Their shows are interesting and attractive, and at the same time entirely free of anything of an immoral nature, there are no gambling devices or hangars on the management is composed of courteous gentlemen, and the week is looked forward to as one of pleasure. Mr. Littlejohn carries this year two free attractions, a high diver and balloon ascension, and these acts will positively be produced every day.

Former Lancaster Boy In Contest.

A handsome picture of J. C. Hempill appeared in the Louisville Post. J. C. was one of the contestants for the gold medal at the High School junior oratorical contest, and while he did not receive the medal we are sure he acquitted himself with credit, as he always does.

Hazers Are Warned By Secretary Daniels.

With the announcement of his approval of the sentence of the court which dismissed Midshipman James C. Cook, from the naval academy, for hazing, Secretary Daniels sent a letter to every midshipman at Annapolis, warning him that hereafter no leniency would be shown hazing, who, in addition to being dismissed, would receive the additional penalty of imprisonment as provided by law.

A Big Court Day.

A rain the previous night rendering the ground too wet to work, the horse show and various other attractions brought to town on last Monday one of the largest crowds seen in Lancaster in many a day, so large it was that by eleven o'clock the livery stables were compelled to turn away customers, both hitch and feed, and the hotels, restaurants and boarding houses were taxed to their utmost to feed the hungry crowd.

There was considerable stock on the market and merchants report a splendid business.

A Much Needed Enterprise.

The Garrard Milling Co., one of the most progressive business institutions in Lancaster, has installed a machine for the manufacture of concrete blocks and expect to be able to supply the demands of the community along that line upon short notice. They expect at an early date to have a sample of their work on exhibition in order that those who desire work of this kind may see just what they can obtain.

The manufacture of concrete blocks and other concrete work has been long desired in Lancaster, and these people are stepping in at an opportune moment, and will doubtless have about all they can do during the building season this spring.

Peddler "Gets Bad" On Jockey Row.

George Wright of Danville came over from Danville on Monday, ostensibly for the purpose of peddling apples to the court day crowd. It is said that among the barrels of apples George's stock was one containing considerable whisky, this as it may however, George appeared on Jockey Row very much intoxicated and proceeded to run amuck; he attempted to scalp George Reid of Junction City, but Reid escaped his clutches before he had done further damage than inflict a slight scalp wound. Wright then selected from his arsenal, which consisted of a shotgun, revolver, dirk knife and brass knucks, a revolver and fired a shot into the air; about this time Chief Herron and officer Ernest Hibbard descended upon him and took him to jail. He was taken before Judge Harris on Tuesday morning and fined $50, and costs, which was very cheap for his day of pleasure. He is now in jail awaiting the action of a ways and means committee who are endeavoring to raise the amount of his fine and release him from jail.

Fine Cartoonist.

Mr. Clay Sutton of Lancaster, was in Danville yesterday to place an order with the Danville Lumber & Manufacturing Co., for some extensive improvements to be made to his handsome home near that city. Mr. Sutton is one of the best cartoonists in Kentucky, but only does the work as pastime. He recently had one in the Lancaster Record depicting Bright Swinebroad and Green Clay Walker electioneering for county attorney. Both candidates are well known in Danville and the cartoon created much amusement. Mr. Sutton is a genius not only at drawing, but in preparing articles for magazines and newspapers. His work has been highly complimented, and it's a pity he doesn't give his old goose-quill more exercise. —Danville Messenger.

Too Big For Its Breeches Danville

Messenger Forced To Move To Larger Quarters.

The continued growth of that good paper the Danville Messenger has forced its owners to seek larger quarters which have been secured on Main street, the property formerly occupied by A. E. Gibbons. Four years ago its first issue was laid on the doorsteps of the Danville people and its progress in these four years has been a marvel. Its pages have been read and reread quoted and clipped from the very first and are always full of live news and good "horse sense". May its shadow never grow less.

Johnston.

Mr. Thomas M. Johnston died at the home of his son W. McClellan Johnston in Jessamine county on Wednesday April 23 after a lingering illness of the infirmities incident to old age.

His remains were brought to Lancaster on last Friday and after services at the Christian church by Eld. F. M. Tinder, the local lodge of Odd Fellows took charge, and after performing their funeral rites, were interred in the Lancaster cemetery.

Mr. Johnston was born in the state of Pennsylvania, but came to Kentucky and settled in Garrard county before the civil war. He was a blacksmith by trade and for a while after locating here worked at that occupation, afterward purchasing a farm in the McCreary neighborhood, and there he lived until a few years ago or until his advanced years prevented him from attending to the duties incident to farm life. He married Miss Jane McDonald a member of a well known family of this county, and she many years ago preceded him to the grave. He is survived by two sons, Messrs. W. McClellan and John T. Johnston, both of whom make their home in Jessamine county, and by three daughter, Mrs. M. Belle Burnside, who resides with her daughter Mrs. Larry Jones in Monticello Ky. Mrs. William Patterson of California and Miss Nell Johnston who is attending Normal school in Richmond.

By an upright and honorable life since coming to this county Mr. Johnston won the respect and esteem of the citizens and there was not a more highly esteemed gentleman ever lived here.

During the latter years of his life he lived in Lancaster, and his kindly disposition and courteous demeanor won him the love and esteem of the entire community. He was a conscientious member and faithful attendant of the Christian church and also of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, and it was his request that his lodge should conduct his funeral ceremonies. He was devoted to his lodge and during his stay here even when his frailties made it necessary for him to be assisted up the steps, he delighted in attending their meetings.

Mr. Johnston was 83 years of age, and for many years has been growing feeble, and his death was not unexpected, but there was not one who knew him whom the intelligence of the death of "Uncle Tom" did not bring a tinge of sadness, and many eyes were dim with tears at the passing of this beloved Godly man. The Record joins in the sincere condolence of a multitude of friends to the stricken family in their great loss.

Faultfinders Are Seldom Helpers.

There are many to criticize and many to offer advice in this world, but how few real helpers. The New York Sun tells of a recent incident on the streets of that great city, where a horse drawing a cartload of coal, stalled. A great crowd gathered about, and many were the words of advice spoken to the driver. One advised whipping, another tying a cloth over the horses eyes, blowing in his ear, and such things. Just then two sailors came along, and one of them called out, Ay, mate; butheres a craft on a reef". "Over with her, then." Both seized a wheel for a lift, the driver clucked for the horse to go ahead, and away went the load as easily as you please. They were the only two in the whole crowd who had not advised the driver how to do it.

Colored Fair.

Lancaster colored people are nothing if not progressive. They are already making preparations for their annual Fair, the 9th one, which will be held this year on August 28, 29 and 30th. W. H. Harris is president and Lewis Faulkner secretary, and they are planning to eclipse any previous exhibition.

The Lexington Collectorship.

Collector of Internal Revenue A. T. Field of the Lexington district received notice from the department on last Saturday of the acceptance of his resignation, which was tendered several weeks ago, and Mr. Harry T. McDowell was named as temporary Collector, and will be checked into office on May 1st, at which time Mr. Field will return to his home in Ashland and will devote his time to his business interests at that place.

Meantime the fight over the Lexington Collectorship continues to become more complex. Mr. Desha Breckinridge of the Lexington Herald has strong backing for the place in the person of Secretary McAdoo, as well as Gov. McCreary, Johnson Camden and J. C. Mayo from this state, while Senator James is standing pat for Ben Marshall of Frankfort for the position. Another serious complication is spoken of as having arisen, is that Judge Robert L. Stouf of Versailles is to be the eleventh hour candidate in compromise, and is to have the support of the Breckinridge followers, whether or not Mr. Breckinridge would be willing to withdraw from the race in favor of Judge Stouf is not yet known. In the meantime the adherents of Ben Marshall are warmly asserting that the latter gentleman has the place cinched. No intimation has as yet come from President Wilson as to who will knock the plumb, and until such indication does come, the friends of the several candidates will continue to urge their mans claim, each one with apparent confidence of success.

Every Good Citizen Who Is Fond Of Fishing Or Hunting Should Become A Member Of The Fish & Game Club Of His County.

The impression seems to be abroad in some counties that the present war being waged against those who infringe the game laws of the state is a war of the town people as against the country people, and this imagination is said to have lead them so far in some instances as to become active in the destruction of fish by means of dynamite. Such an idea is preposterous and wholly without foundation; the books of the local club are open and everyone is heartily invited to join, especially is the invitation extended to people living out in the county, and if they fail to take advantage of the opportunity, it is their own

The Womans Club

(Edited By The Womans Club)

On May 21 the Literary Department will hold its last meeting under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. R. E. McRoberts, with Mrs. Sutton as leader. The subject is, "The Mountaineer in Literature." Let every member of the club be present, as the next year's work will be decided on at this meeting. The last musical will be on May 23rd.

The committee appointed for the selection of next year's officers presented the names of Mrs. Theodore Curry, President; Mrs. Frank Marksbury, Vice-President and Mrs. Riley, Secretary and Treasurer. This selection met with the hearty approval of the entire club and under these able officers the work of the club is expected to push forward.

The success of a club is measured not by the scope of its programs, but by the interest it awakens and the number of people it sets to work.

A great deal depends on the committee that arranges the work. In all cases the committees ought to be active, they ought to be made up of women who are really interested.

There is always criticism of active members in any organization, and the charge of "running things" may be expected as a matter of course. A club that is fortunate enough to include a few who care enough for it to give it time, enthusiasm and hard work ought to be very thankful and allow it to be "run"; it is a fortunate organization which gets the impulse of ardent spirits, eager to keep interest fresh and people active.

We are asked to announce the annual meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs that no engagement may be made that would conflict with the Federation. June 10, 11, 12, and 13 are the days set for the occasion, and the place of meeting is Middlesboro, one of the most beautifully located towns in Kentucky, nestled in the lap of the towering Cumberland, at the Cumberland Gap, the gateway of the State, even as it was when Daniel Boone came through it into Kentucky from the South. A Middlesboro paper in speaking of the meeting has the following to say: "The State Federation of Women's Clubs will meet in Middlesboro in June and bring together about two hundred of the State's most intellectual and charming women. This will be a great thing for us. Organizations of various kinds have met here, but this is the first honor of this kind to be bestowed upon us". This shows the cordiality in the attitude of the town to the Federation.

Swatting one fly of every 1000 hatched is all right so far as it goes, but it is far better and easier to stop breeding them. Over 90 per cent of flies are bred in horse manure, in stables and their surroundings. It takes 10 days for flies to hatch, and if every barn and stable, public and private, could be cleaned, the manure scattered on the fields where it is needed, and this could be repeated every Saturday, it would practically end the fly business. The Board appeals to the railroads and other corporations to make and indicates that the club women have "something to look forward to" in going to Middlesboro.

CIVIC NOTES.

If an officer has not called on your premises do not get discouraged he will be there. Many unsanitary conditions have been reported to the Health Board. Remove the breeding place of the fly, the manure heaps.

We wonder why it is hogs are allowed to stay in town until May 1st. If this is a cause of flies and sickness, then they should be removed sooner. A heavy penalty and fine will be imposed on all who have not complied with this ordinance by May 1st.

We notice that all of our "sister cities" have had days set apart as "clean up" days. Danville and Harrodsburg are doing active, earnest work, while Winchester and Bowling Green are offering 15 and 20 cents a quart for dead flies.

Remember; no dirt, no manure piles, no flies.

Proclamation To Prevent Sickness.

Bowling Green, Kentucky. Be it known of all people that the State Board of Health, in the exercise of authority vested in it by law, and because far more than half the sickness and nearly half the deaths of every year are from preventable and filth diseases, hereby issues its proclamation earnestly urging the authorities of every county, city, town, school, corporation and home to set apart Friday and Saturday, May, 2nd and 3rd, 1913, for the most comprehensive, far-reaching, clean-up, liming and white-washing campaign ever undertaken in Kentucky. It asks the officials to arrange in advance for teams to haul off all garbage and other refuse, and to provide proper places for their disposal, that householders, especially the women, children and servants, cooperate in collecting the same, and that teachers and students devote the forenoon of Friday to cleaning up and white-washing the school premises, giving particular attention to the privies; and the Board makes an especial appeal for this cleaning up and white-wash at every country home in the State.

Swatting one fly of every 1000 hatched is all right so far as it goes, but it is far better and easier to stop breeding them. Over 90 per cent of flies are bred in horse manure, in stables and their surroundings. It takes 10 days for flies to hatch, and if every barn and stable, public and private, could be cleaned, the manure scattered on the fields where it is needed, and this could be repeated every Saturday, it would practically end the fly business. The Board appeals to the railroads and other corporations to make their premises model in every community, and it urges the distilleries and owners of cattle pens, against which much just complaint is being made, to clean up and plough the pens as soon as the cattle are removed, and then use not less than 25 barrels of fresh lime per acre on your premises.

The Board appeals to the press, teachers, medical profession, Women's Clubs and Civic Leagues to cooperate with the authorities and people in doing these things, because it will save money, and will save, what is far more important, the health and lives of the best people on earth the men, women and children of Kentucky.

Given under our hands, this April 25, 1913.

Women Candidates Lose in Harrodsburg Election.

For the first time in the history of Harrodsburg, the oldest town in the State, women voted and voted for women. The election was held to fill two vacancies on the Board of Directors of the graded school. There were two women candidates and two men. Mrs. Letcher Riker, a former president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Fred Currey, a noted educator and Mrs. H. C. Smith. The race has been warm for several weeks. The women candidates and their friends kept the columns of the local press filled with electioneering appeals for votes, while their opponents used only oral and personal persuasions. The canvass was spirited and created intense interest. Politics cut no figure though both the men candidates said one of the women was of Democratic proclivities. Many country people of both sexes came in to town and crowded about the new courthouse, which was christened today by women suffragists casting the first votes of their lives in the new building.

The result of the election was a great surprise to all. The vote stood 388 for Bohon and Smith, against 110 for their opponents.

Harrodsburg Has Men Who Belong To Stone-Age.

It is astonishing how many Stone-age men are manifesting themselves in Harrodsburg these latter days. Men who actually or tentatively hold to the absolute tradition of Woman's inherent inferiority. We quote from a most highly reputable and conservative magazine—"And the more inferior the man the more tenaciously he clings to his ideas holding fast to it, also his own personal property—The Stone-Age Woman." The question before you, my dear Mr. Any-Age Man or Woman, is not now Woman's Suffrage, from any political standpoint—and it belittles any mind to consider it so, or to call it a question of political or personal politics. The question to be voted upon next Saturday, April 28th, is a question of the child and the school, and touches the home from every standpoint. Our State Legislature has granted the women of Kentucky the right of school suffrage. Therefore every woman, as well as every man, if he or she, will, or will not, becomes responsible for our schools and their management. We do not say one word to the detriment of the School Board as it has stood, but we do say that new blood brings new life, and new management new methods.

And we believe the two new candidates, Mrs. Letcher Riker and Mrs. Fred Currey both candidates fully qualified to cooperate with the four masculine members of the board in making the schools of Harrodsburg schools of which we may be proud. A school in which the best is none too good for all alike.

No conventions, no sentiment, can relieve you of the responsibility—if you vote or not the responsibility is yours without a question, both for men and women. From 7 a. m. to 6 p. m., Saturday, April 25th, at the Court House. Remember—Harrodsburg Leader.

Printers Bring Second Annual Meeting To Close With Banquet.

The second annual Kentucky Printers' Cost Congress came to a close with a banquet in the main dining room of The Seelbach, which was attended by 120 employing printers from all parts of the State. All of the speakers expressed extreme satisfaction at the success of the gathering and testified to the benefit they had derived from the cost schools conducted by R. T. Porte, secretary of the Ben Franklin Club of Cincinnati and T. J. Turner, of Covington.

Officers for the coming year were elected in the final business session as follows: Wade Sheltman, Louisville, president; R. L. Elkin, Lancaster, first vice president; J. M. Moberly, Owensboro, second vice president; Lucien Beckner, Winchester, third vice president, and T. L. Briggs, Glasgow, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be held in Louisville in April 1914.

Resolution were adopted endorsing the administration of President A. D. Miller, of Richmond, and looking to the extension of the cost system throughout the State between this and next April, when another cost congress will be held in Louisville. It is expected to bring this about through district meetings from time to time throughout Kentucky, in charge of district chairmen, and through the organization of local clubs in cities wherein there are five or more printing plants, these clubs to take in as members printers in adjoining towns.

Be A Charming Woman.

You never saw a beautiful woman who didn't have beautiful hair. The charms of a beautiful woman lie in her hair. Many women do not realize the attractions they possess because they do not give proper attention to the hair.

The women of the "400" are famed for their beauty, not because their facial features are superior to those of other women, but because they know how to keep young by supplying vigor, lustre, and strength to the hair.

Up to a few years ago PARISIAN Sage could hardly be obtained in America. But now this delightful hair restorer can be had in every town in America. R. E. McRoberts sells it in Lancaster for 50 cents a bottle, and guarantees it to grow beautiful, luxuriant hair; to stop falling hair, eradicate dandruff.

Beache Will Fly No More.

Lincoln Beache, the aviator whose recklessness has been the sensation of the country for two years, says he will never fly again professionally. He believes that he has been responsible for the death of a number of aviators. This is the cause of his abandonment of a game which has made him a rich man.

"I have quit for good," he said the other day.

"I have made a fortune in a little more than two years. I have defied death at every opportunity in that time. I have been a bad influence, and the death of a number of youthful aviators in this country can be traced, I believe, to their desire to emulate me in my foolishly daring exploits in the air.

The Work Of Boy Scouts.

The Boy scouts of America have adopted the slogan, "Prevent the Fly." It is a wise plan, too. The boys will go scouting for the flies.

Cards bearing the motto "Prevent the Fly" will be sent to the boy scouts. These cards will contain not only the life-history of flies and give a picture of the damage they do, but also will contain specific instructions for the scouts.

First: The scouts will be urged "to swat the fly;" namely, to kill the old ones that have lived through the winter time, or are of the first brood of the spring season. Second: They will go scouting for the breeding places for flies, such as stables, pigsties, garbage cans and the like, for by cleaning up those places they prevent the fly. If the breeding place is a stable, the scout will go to the owner and will endeavor to get him to sign a promise to keep the stable clean. Third: If the scout finds a garbage can that is not being taken care of properly he will report it to the city authorities. Fourth: If he finds breeding places that are not being properly cared for and no available means are provided for cleaning up these places he and his companion scouts will undertake the work themselves.

The plan is to divide up each city and town into sections and appoint a troop to look after that section. As a troop has several patrols, the section will be sub-divided so that each patrol will have a separate district to cover. So look out for the boy scouts of Lancaster, they will get YOU, if you don't watch out.

Mrs. B. F. Walter, Hill St., Lancaster, Ky., says: "I never fail to praise Doan's Kidney Pills when I have the opportunity, as they are certainly a fine remedy. I have not been without a supply in the house for years. Whenever my back becomes lame and painful, a few doses bring me instant relief. At one time I feared that I had serious kidney trouble. The kidney secretions were unnatural and gave unmistakable evidence of disordered kidneys. At that time it was my good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills and I began using them. In a short time my kidneys were normal."

Immediately following The Sun's story urging a campaign against the disease spreader, the Duty Drug Store announced that a reward of fifteen cents a quart will be paid for all flies brought to the store and this announcement will no doubt set the ball to rolling.

This offer for flies will remain good until the last day of May, this year when a new offer will probably be made, but the object is to get all the early flies killed, so that the supply will be cut short this year.

Home Is Home.

In times of great floods one frequent ly hears the question, "Why do people live in such places?" To those who know little of floods from personal experience the answer is not easy, but the world is made up of a great many kinds of people and these inhabitants of the world are engaged in a great variety of occupations. The bottom lands are highly productive, the floods come at widely separated intervals, some have short memories of flood privations and others are willing to take the chances.

In all probability a few weeks hence and the bottom lands along the Ohio will be occupied as usual and familiar forms and faces will be seen going about the affairs of life in their accustomed way. With the dreadful experience the families living on the Point, as it is called in Louisville, one would suppose they would never return to that place, but home is home, even if you are in danger of being washed away; and we are sure they would feel like ducks out of water elsewhere.

Bleucher 46158, record 2:29, trial mile 2:14 1/2, half in 1:06, last quarter in 32 seconds, is a handsome seal brown horse, and will weigh 1100 pounds. He greatly resembles his good sire Silent Brook and is out of Clayo, by the great Futurity sire Moko. A grand combination of two of the best race horse families of the present day. He being a real race horse himself, having had very little training and most of that by an amateur. It certainly looks like this horse is of Grand Circuit caliber, and if given half a chance he will win his share of the money sure.

BLEUCHER is a perfect type of a road horse, good gaited with perfect manners, wears no boots, or weights. He was a money winner at the Blue Grass Fair last year and is conceded by good judges to be the best road horse out this year.

This is a good opportunity for Garrard and adjoining counties to breed into the best families of the trotting blood. Look this horse's breeding over and see how many they have in the list both sire and dam.

The veteran reinsman, Mr. E. F. Geers, has the following to say relative to this horse.

"I am under the impression that Gordon Todd will prove to be a great sire as he was good headed, pure gaited, with plenty knee, shoulder and strife action which all good sires have to have. I do think that had he been sound he would have gone a mile in 2:04 or 2:05 and probably faster. Yours truly, E. F. Geers.

The Best Bargain You Ever Made

HOW do you measure the value of a bargain? Suppose you bought an engine that did practically all of your hardest work for you, sawing, pumping, grinding, etc., and that saved so much money that it soon paid for itself. Would you call that a good bargain?

An IHC engine will do all that, and more. Having paid for itself, it works steadily year after year until, like our Clay County friend who has used an IHC engine for six years, you will say, "My IHC engine is the best bargain I ever made."

IHC Oil and Gas Engines

are thoroughly dependable, and unusually durable. The fine-grained, grey iron cylinders and pistons are worked together to a perfect fit. Ground piston rings insure maximum power from the explosion. The fuel mixer is the most effective known. Bearings are large and carefully fitted. No part is too heavy to be efficient, yet every part is amply strong.

IHC engines are made in all styles—vertical and horizontal; portable and stationary; air and water-cooled; in sizes from 1 to 50-horse power, to operate on gas, gasoline, naphtha, distillate, kerosene or alcohol. Oil tractors, 12 to 60-horse power, for plowing, threshing, etc.; grinding, sawing, pumping and spraying outfits, complete the line.

is as good as if it were made of one-piece staves, and very much less expensive. There is need at these joints to become corroded by the acids and no outside moisture can collect in them to rot the wood. This joint adds years to the life of your silo and many dollars to its value.

We have a plan by which you can own an Indiana Silo and let it pay for itself out of what it saves for you on next winter's feed bills. Give us a chance to explain it to you.

HORSE SHOW DAY. Record Breaking Crowd See Some Good Horses.

Last Monday was regular horse show day for Lancaster and notwithstanding the extremely cold and rainy day that it was, the largest crowd ever seen on such an occasion was here. Many of the best horses in central Kentucky were on hand while quite a few of the noted ones were absent on account of the inclement day. Good judges tell us that the show of horses here Monday was by far the best that was ever seen here, both as to quality of breeding and individuality.

The following were here:

Thisth Doun, 2:94, and Chimewood, 2:14, both good individuals, well bred and full of speed. These horses were well looked after by their owner Mr. Jas. Granville Cecil and that veteran of trainers Crit Davis.

Gordon Todd, Record 2:07½ owned by Jno. S. Baughman attracted much attention and will prove very popular in this country.

Bleacher, Record 2:29½ owned and exhibited by W. B. Burton looks and steps like a race horse and although Mr. Burton has owned some good ones in his time, Bleacher seems the best by far of any he has ever owned.

Rex Helton, owned by Mark Goins of Marksburg made a good show and was very much admired.

Don Verrick, the well bred and handsome sorrel of Logan Hubble's made a fine show and is very popular.

Standard Time, the handsome black stallion by Dignity Dare and owned by W. S. Tewmey made a favorable impression and is a fine individual.

Rex Moki, was exhibited by Mr. Pete Parrish and was considered by many the best type of gaited stallion on the street.

Wilkes Boy, owned by Mr. Lem Teater made a fine show both in action and speed and attracted much attention.

Sir Ray, owned by R. H. Bronaugh was the only Percheron exhibited and was a good one.

Hill Squirrel, by far the best walking horse exhibited was ably shown by his clever owner, J. T. Rainey.

Kentucky Peavine and Fitzpatrick whose proud owner is L. R. Duerson made good shows with perfect gaits and all round action.

Kentucky Stonewall, the handsome black of R. J. Hendren was in the pink of condition and had many friends and was admired by all.

High Preston, the royalty bred stallion of J. F. Foley, Hackley, Ky. was a handsome individual with good style and lots of action.

Beau Naboth, one of the best harness stallions that ever went into a ring was on hand and looked ever inch a winner, R. G. Pettus, Preachersville, is his proud owner.

Barlowe, the magnificent pony of R. J. Burton's was every inch a winner and very popular in his class.

Two Shetlands of Mr. M. S. Baughman were ably shown by his handsome young son and created much interest.

Major C. Jr. a shetland owned by R. L. Elkin, was a handsome little fellow and judged by many to be superior to his sire.

Diamond Dick, the beautiful pony of W. S. Carrier was very much admired and is being well cared for at the stable of J. T. Rainey.

Shelby, another handsome pony by Dock Gray and owned by Mr. Webb Rainey won quite a share of the applause which was justly due him as he is a fine individual.

The horses not on exhibition but well represented by their proud owners were;

Kentucky Gentleman and Voltaire, owned by J. N. Carter, Stanford. Carroll Preston and High Cloud, owned by W. O. Walker, Stanford. All Peavine owned by R. S. Scudder, McKinney, Bohemian King, owner, Allen S. Edelen, Burgin, Ky. Chester Chief and Kentucky Choice, Joe McDowell Jr., Danville. Walking Denmark, owned by W. T. Noel, Buckley.

The above horses were very much missed and quite a number were disappointed in not seeing them.

"Yes, our new wagon's a Studebaker—the only kind we KNOW!"

"The Studebaker idea has been in our family for sixty years. We have never thought of buying any other kind of a wagon."

"It's true, we're continually being offered other wagons costing a little less, with lots of promises as to what they will do. But we know in our family what a Studebaker will do. A few dollars difference in price doesn't mean much. It's the service a wagon gives that we consider most."

"Long service for a fair price means more every time than short service for a few dollars less."

"That's why we stick to Studebaker—and 'Stick to Studebaker' is a pretty good motto for a man who uses wagons."

"Studebaker wagons are built of good stuff. They're made right by people who've had years and years of experience in making them right—people who are trusted the world over."

"Look out for the dealer who tells you his wagon is just as good as a Studebaker. That's my advice after a good deal of experience—and the experience of all of my people. You get a Studebaker and you've got a safe investment."

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by most physicians, salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the skin surface where the oil glands, where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the trouble. One cause of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription. Mrs. D. W. Bridges Dead.

Death is at all times sad but it is doubly so in the case of Mrs. D. W. Bridges, a young wife and mother. After an illness which began some three weeks ago when a little son was born to her, Mrs. Bridges, beloved wife of Prof. D. W. Bridges, superintendent of Caldwell High School, breathed her last at 1:30 Monday morning. Funeral services were conducted at the home on Oak street at 11:30 o'clock and at 1 in the afternoon, the remains, accom- panied by the grief-stricken husband and mother, Mrs. Marcellus Jagoe, were taken to Cadiz, Trigg county, where they were interred this after- noon. The services here were conduct- ed by Dr. D. H. Scanlon, her pastor, assisted by Drs. E. B. Barnes and G. W. Crutchfield. Besides the husband and infant son spoken of above, another little son, D. Warren Bridges, is left to mourn with them the loss of a devoted wife and mother. May they be given strength to bear the fearful blow they have received. Mrs. Bridges was Miss Nancy Louise Jagoe, was only 27 years old and was a devout member of the Presbyterian church. She was a charming woman, and was exceedingly popular in Richmond and wherever she was known. Her death has cast a gloom over the city and every heart hereabout goes out to Prof. Bridges, his little sons and the mother in their great sorrow. May they all find consolation in the knowledge that their loss is her eternal gain.—Rich- mond Climax.

The news of the death of Mrs. Brid- ges came as a great shock to her Lancaster friends who had not realized the seriousness of her condition. During the four years she lived here she made many devoted friends who fondly cher- ish her memory. She was a faithful wife, an affectionate mother, a loyal friend, and many eyes were dimmed with tears and many hearts were sad- dened by the realization that the "sil- ver cord had been loosened" that bound her to earth.

"Life's burdens and sorrows are many, Yet it has none to compare with this A wife and a mother gone,

Who made home a haven of bliss, Eyes are blind-folded with weeping,

Ears hear the discord of sobs, But grief rises like incense to Heaven,

And touches the heart of God. He points to the rainbow of promise,

Bids you look at it through your tears Whispers peace to your troubled soul,

Calmng your anguish and fears."

Letter From Former Lancaster Teacher.

Dear Friends:

We noticed in the Record the program of an entertainment given by my pupil, some years ago, and it gave me much pleasure to know that it was ap- preciated enough by some one of my pupils to have it republished. Please give me the name.

We enjoy the Lancaster Record and deeply sympathize with all of you in your joys and sorrows.

May God continue to bless your efforts to benefit humanity, is the prayer of yours in Christian love

Mrs. Mary L. Yantis, Paragould, Ark.

Our school life is indeed the golden link that binds youth to age, and she is still but a child, however time may have furrowed the cheek or silvered the hair who can yet recall, with a softened heart, the happy days spent with Mr. and Mrs. Yantis. All of the names republished, bringing to Mrs. Yantis faces and memories of other days, long since stepped out of school life into life's school. Two fell before reaching the noonday of life—Lizzie Jennings and Abbie Yantis.

Maggie Curry, Berta Collier, Eliza Smith, Scottie Petty, Lillie Kemper, Bettie Lear, Lee Anderson, Nettie Kemper and Lillie Grant still live in our midst. Jennie Johnston lives in far away California, Lena Gould in Indiana, Kate Seelridge in Tenn., Besse Yantis in Arkansas, Lena Irvine in Louisville, and Leila Marksbury in Danville, Ky.

Intervening years have not dimmed the vivid coloring of those happy days, and while they live in the memory of all, the one who recited "The Wreck of the Hesperus" had preserved it in a scrap book.

The reminiscences of youth are a trite theme, but it possesses an interest which the world cannot dislodge from our minds, and while the wheel of fortune has turned in a different manner for each of us we have not forgotten Franklin Institute and

THE HAPPY LONG AGO.

In that wondrous land on the rippling strand

Of the happy long ago

Are castles fair built in air

Where the magic fountains flow,

There are dreams of love that never came true;

Of a niche in the hall of fame:

Of a life unrolled in a sheen of gold

As the fragrant summers came.

O! the dreams were sweet in the long ago

And the faces all were bright

But they dwell today in the far-away

Enshrinéd in a mellow light,

But beyond the sky, where the sunbeams die,

Is a land where dreams come true,

And the broken day shall pass away,

For "He maketh all things new."

The races were called at 2:30 o'clock,

Teaching Good Writing. Good writing is mainly a habit, therefore begin early to teach it; it is also a matter of keenness and care, therefore, insist, at all times and in all places, on good, legible, careful handwriting. These two principles seem to me to lie at the root of the question of teaching this subject.—Headmistress Ladies School.

He certainly is a strange young man!"

Matter of Bound.

It was at one of the West Side schools the other day that the word "catch" came up in the lesson. The little girl who was reciting did not recognize the word, and another small damsel was asked to define it. "Catch?" she asked. "Why catch means just to keep it."—Mother's Magazine.

Selling Books.

An itinerant colored bible vendor took up his station on the corner near the Garrard Bank & Trust Co. several days of last week, and while he succeeded in disposing of a goodly number of his wares, we are of the opinion they were not as much in demand as would have been a late edition of "Jesse James" or other such blood curdling literature.
